Weather Probabilities.
For this section rain tonight. Saturday generally fair and slightly warmer; light to moderate north to northwest winds.

THE COMING CELEBRATION.

The rainy, cold and disagreeable weather of today has interfered somewhat with the outdoor preparations for Home-coming Week and the celebration of the 30th instant. Most of the decorations for the occasion have been placed on houses and across streets, and the committees have almost perfected the work committed to them.

There was no meeting last night of the executive committee, but they will hold another session tomorrow night.

The roadway of Washington street is being improved for the festivities.

The executive committee again request the citizens generally and those living along the route of the procession especially to decorate their houses.

The committee is desirous of having a more profuse decoration than ever before.

"King Harry the Queen" will arrive at the foot of King street Monday night, in his royal barge when he and his suite will be met by the Arab Patrol, of Almas Temple, Washington, which will act as their escort from the river front to the court of honor, where Mayor Pad will turn over the keys of the city to "his majesty" for "Old Home-coming Week," and the "queen" of the carnival will be crowned. Later, the members of the patrol will be entertained at the Elks' Home, Prince and Royal streets.

The Washington-Southern Railway Company will furnish the necessary electric power for the search light to be placed on Shooters Hill.

H. J. Heintz & Co., of Pittsburgh and Baltimore, have contributed through Mr. Wedderburn, secretary of the Washington Park Association, one-half barrel of pickles, and three cases of baked beans, to be used towards entertaining the visitors.

Secretary Wedderburn desires to thank the many Washington merchants for their kindness in extending the use of their windows for advertising Old Home-coming Week, and for their uniform and unalloyed courtesy in offering assistance in any way possible.

Mr. J. K. Heyl, secretary of the Washington Automobile Club, writes that there will be a number of individual members of the club in Alexandria on April 30th.

Mr. S. Chapman Neale, of Washington, D. C., in sending a contribution of $20 to aid in defraying the expenses of the celebration, writes: "My love for Alexandria and her people remains unabated, and I keenly regret that necessary absence from Washington will prevent me from attending."

Mrs. L. W. Hoffman, 414 Franklin street, has a live American eagle which she would like to put in the parade.

Mr. C. S. T. Burke, chairman of the finance committee, today received from M. Goldenburg, Washington, D. C., $25.

The secretary desires to thank the Remington Typewriter Co., of Washington, for the use of their machine for Old Home-coming Week.

A STRANGE AFFILIATION.

A gentleman living on Duke street, whose house has been somewhat troubled with rats and mice, was recently presented with a cat by some friends, who assured him that the feline was both by heredity and nature a splendid hunter of the troublesome rodent. In fact, that she had destroyed more of them than there are "leaves along the streams of shady Valambrosa." The cat was duly installed and placed in the part of the premises where the rats were given to coming "neath the glimmer of the moon." A nice supper was placed, consisting of such things as pussy was supposed to like. During the night the gentleman concluded to peep in and see how things were progressing. A sight met his eye that fairly paralyzed him—the cat had company to supper. She had invited a half dozen heavy old rats and they were all enjoying the viands together with the utmost harmony.

AN INTERESTING FIND.

Mr. James S. Hitt has left at this office specimens of oyster shells he obtained from a neighbor who was digging a well on the latter farm in Prince George's county, Md., opposite this city. At the depth of 40 feet he struck an oyster bed which is at least 90 feet above the level of the river. The shells are crumpled and more delicately formed than the oyster shells of the present day. They are brittle and are formed in layers which are almost as thin as paper. The shells are not long, but are in the shape of the Tanager oysters of today—about as broad as they are long—and hollow as bowls, and must have contained fine bivalves in prehistoric times.

KNOCKED FROM ENGINE.

Fireman Budd, of this city, while on the locomotive of a fast freight train on its way to Washington had a narrow escape from death yesterday, when he was knocked from his engine by the frame work of a bridge near Four Mile Run. He had sufficient presence of mind to cling to the girder until the train passed, when he dropped to the tracks. No one witnessed the accident and it was not until the train had gone several miles that Budd was missed. Running back the crew discovered Budd lying unconscious on the track under the bridge. He was brought to his home in this city. His condition is not serious.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION.

Mr. N. Woolberg celebrated his 70th birthday at his home on Cameron street last evening, and was greatly surprised when the members of the Hebrew congregation called in a body and presented him with a very handsome " Morris chair" after which refreshments were served and several toasts were responded to.

Rev. E. J. Richardson, field secretary of the Anti-Slavery League of Northern Virginia, will preach Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the Second Baptist Church at the corner of Columbia and Penitentiary streets.

The only store where Regal shoes can be had outside of their agency, John A. Marshall & Bro., 422 King street.

CROWDED HOUSES.

From 7:30 o'clock last night till almost midnight one on King street adjacent to the Opera House could hear the shouts of approval as they emanated from the prettily decorated building from those who were enjoying the comedy and double show which is on at this house this week. There are times to laugh—that is when you are compelled to laugh—and a visit to this show will convince one that this is the season for merriment. Tonight Guy Johnson, who is the most clever in his line, will again hold forth and with the assistance of the excellent stock company continue the good work. Tonight that king of vaudeville will present the laughing hit of the season entitled "The Girl from College," a scream from start to finish. He will be ably assisted by an excellent stock company. The second farce comedy will be "Jake and His Mule."

The Surprise Theatre was filled to overflowing again last night and the new show proved to be a great success. The fun which the manager of this popular house crowds into an hour's time is wonderful and the quantity of the performances given is attested by a packed house nightly. A first class vaudeville and motion picture show awaits all who go tonight.

One could see by the smiles worn by those who emanated from the building that the Alexandria Amusement Company was doing what it promised last night in the way of talking and silent pictures. Fuhrman, the great singer, continues to charm the crowds which visit this popular picture house. Change of programme tonight.

At the Elks, as was expected, many people were seated enjoying the large pictures which were of a choice variety. There is no denying the fact that this house is popular for the quantity and size of the pictures furnished.

ACCUSED DISMISSED.

Considerable excitement was caused on north Lee street between eleven and twelve o'clock last night by the blowing of police whistles. Lieutenant Smith, who had responded, repaired to the scene, but for a time he was unable to ascertain the cause of alarm. All the inmates of the house were in the street, but they also seemed ignorant of the origin of the disturbance. The lieutenant, however, ascertained that a young man, who gave his name as Sverre Sinsen, who came to this port sometime ago on a Norwegian vessel which brought bones from South America, had been ejected from a house in which he desired to remain all night, and had become exasperated at the treatment he had received. Sinsen was brought before the Police Court this morning. He was dismissed by Justice Catton. This was the only case before the court.

MEMORIAL TABLET.

As the Gazette is going to press this evening a large crowd is gathering in the yard of Christ Church to attend the unveiling ceremony incident to the unveiling of the handsome bronze tablet erected by the ladies of Mt. Vernon Chapter, D. A. R., to the memory of the pallbearers of General George Washington. Many distinguished personages will be present and the interesting programme as published yesterday will be carried out. The members of the two Masonic lodges, the City Council and city officials will be present, as will also a large delegation of ladies of the D. A. R. Congress, now in session in Washington, together with Vice President Sherman and a number of members of Congress. The Naval Academy Band from Annapolis will furnish the music for the occasion.

THE WEATHER.

There has been a variety of weather during the past thirty-six hours. The early part of yesterday was suggestive of summer. The sun shone brightly and the temperature was warm. In the afternoon there was rain, hail, thunder and lightning. The wind later shifted to the northeast and more rain followed during last night. Heavy showers prevailed at times this morning, the temperature in the meantime being uncomfortably cool.

CLOSES TOMORROW NIGHT.

Tomorrow night at 10 o'clock the voting contest for "Queen of the Carnival" will end. One of the candidates will be delighted and the others disappointed. There can be but one queen and those who have a favorite in the contest must remember that no votes will be taken after 10 o'clock on Saturday night. Rumors are rife as to who will win, but not being able to foretell coming events, to name the successful one would be only a guess. The following is the standing of the contestants to date:
